

Digital Leadership Program - Approved School Validators

Presented by Leadhawk Learning

The Digital Leadership Program allows approved school or organizational representatives to review, acknowledge, or validate student participation and leadership involvement associated with the program.

WHO MAY SERVE AS A VALIDATOR

Approved validators may include:

- principals
- assistant principals
- athletic directors
- coaches
- teachers
- counselors
- club advisors
- youth organization leaders
- church/youth ministry leaders
- approved program representatives

VALIDATOR RESPONSIBILITIES

Validators may:

- confirm student participation
- acknowledge leadership involvement
- verify school or organizational standing
- review proposal or participation efforts
- support implementation discussions
- recognize positive leadership participation

VALIDATION IS NOT LEGAL CERTIFICATION

Validation within the Digital Leadership Program is intended to acknowledge participation, leadership involvement, and positive engagement. Validation does not represent legal certification, disciplinary clearance, psychological evaluation, or formal institutional endorsement unless otherwise determined by the participating organization.

Schools and organizations remain in control of participation standards, validation decisions, and implementation involvement.
